Accountability for Workplace Culture

Our PUD values are at the center of our culture. Putting the safety, health, and well-being of our communities and those we work with is valued above all else and everyone on Team PUD must meet this commitment daily. Nothing we do in achieving our Mission is worth a single injury, and all who interact with us must feel they are valued and welcomed as individuals.

Everyone on Team PUD, in all positions, is accountable for achieving this safe and welcoming culture by:

1. Taking full ownership for the safety of themselves and their coworkers, while ensuring everyone feels valued and welcomed.
2. Taking action to identify and eliminate their own and others' at-risk behaviors, including the behaviors that may undermine another's feelings of being welcomed and valued.
3. Following all safety rules and regulations and ensuring the PUD's expectations for conduct and respect are maintained.
4. Openly sharing near-misses, safety learning opportunities, and ways we can learn to be a more welcoming place while encouraging others to do the same.
5. Utilizing Stop Work Authority to intervene with anyone, anytime, in any place.
6. Intervening or seeking guidance to stop actions that are harmful to the wellbeing, health, or sense of belonging of others, and which are detrimental to our PUD values.

Job Summary

Many of the District's operations, policies and practices have the potential to create legal or business risk, or require compliance with a variety of laws, regulations, and other requirements. The District requires professional, objective and timely legal analysis, supporting legal services, and legal representation to successfully manage risk, ensure compliance with these various requirements and regulations, consistent with the professional obligations of public attorneys. In addition, the District requires formal representation in administrative and formal legal proceedings by licensed attorneys. In-house counsel is the most effective means of delivering proactive legal and business analysis and advice to minimize risk while advancing the District's objectives and goals.

This deputy-level attorney classification advances the District's objectives and goals by providing in-house counsel on matters of legal or business risk and compliance, as well as, participates in all aspects of overseeing and managing the Office of General Counsel and directly assisting the General Counsel. An attorney in this class provides professional, objective and timely legal analysis, supporting legal services, and legal representation to successfully manage risk, ensure compliance with requirements and regulations, and represents the District in administrative and formal legal proceedings. Attorneys in this class are generally assigned to more complex professional legal tasks, work with independence, and regularly supervise other attorneys and staffs.
