State Government Relations Activity Report

STATE OVERVIEW

- The Washington State Department of Commerce awarded 14 organizations grants totaling $8.1 million through the Clean Energy Fund that will expand renewable energy use and strengthen Washington's electric grid. Notably, the Tulalip Tribes was awarded $2 million to install a microgrid for the Tulalip community at the Gathering Hall facility. This project builds on a previous Grid Modernization grant, with Snohomish PUD as the primary grantee.
- Washington State Department of Ecology (Ecology) released its Auction Summary Report from the first Climate Commitment Act (CCA) quarterly allowance auction of 2024. The auction included the sale of 2,182,241 consigned allowances from entities and 5,260,000 new allowances from Ecology. While the proceeds have not been disclosed yet, they are expected to be lower than earlier auctions. The price for the first auction of 2024 was $25.74 per allowance which is down significantly from 2023 auction prices which were as high as $63.03 back in September.
- The Washington State Building Code Council's (SBCC) recently implemented new building codes which will take effect on March 15, 2024. The SBCC's revised building code encourages the adoption of electric heat pumps in newly constructed buildings. While the new building codes do not explicitly ban natural gas, like earlier effort did in new construction, they incentivize electric heat pumps by creating energy efficiency credits when builders who choose to install electric heat pumps.

Federal Government Relations Activity Report

FEDERAL OVERVIEW

GOVERNMENT RELATIONS ACTIVITIES REPORT - MARCH

- Senator Mitch McConnell, who currently serves as the Senate Minority Leader, announced he plans to step down from the position in November. McConnell is the longest-serving Senate Republican party leader.
- On March 6th, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) finalized rules mandating climate-related disclosures for publicly traded companies. These rules aim to provide investors with consistent, comparable, and reliable information about the financial impact of climate-related risks. Key requirements include:
 - Material Climate-Related Risks: Registrants must disclose risks that materially affect their business strategy, financial condition, or results of operations.
 - Mitigation and Adaptation Activities: Companies must report on activities undertaken to address climate risks.
 - Board Oversight and Management Role: Information about board oversight of climate risks and management's role in handling these risks is required.
 - Climate-Related Targets: Material targets or goals related to climate impact must be disclosed.
- On March 7, President Biden delivered his State of the Union address to Congress and the nation.
- Both the House of Representatives and Senate passed a package of six spending bills – including the Energy-Water and Interior-Environment bills - for Fiscal Year (FY) 2024. The package passed ahead of a March 8 partial government shutdown deadline. The package includes:
 - $50.25 billion for the Department of Energy, an increase of $1.8 billion from FY2023.
 - $3.46 billion for renewable energy programs
 - $4 billion for fire suppression and $2.65 billion for wildfire disaster
 - Funding cuts, compared to FY2023, for the Bureau of Land Management, Fish and Wildlife Service, and Environmental Protection Agency.
- The White House named three nominees to fill seats on the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission: David Rosner, a FERC staffer; Judy Chang, former undersecretary of energy and climate for Massachusetts; and Lindsay See, currently serving as solicitor general for West Virginia.
- The Biden administration allocated over $120 million to tribal nations for 146 climate resilience projects, aiming mitigate the impacts of climate change. Of note, the Tulalip Tribes and Stillaguamish Tribe were among the grant recipients.
- President Biden released his proposed budget request for fiscal year 2025. The proposal would increase (non-defense) spending at the Department of Energy and the Low-Income Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP). Of note, presidential budgets are not inherently binding. While the request outlines the administration's priorities and funding allocations, the actual implementation and allocation of funds depend on the legislative process.

KEY HEARINGS

- March 6 | House Energy and Commerce Subcommittee on Energy, Climate & Grid Security markup of bills focused on prohibiting the Biden administration's energy efficiency measures for household appliances.
- March 12 | House Subcommittee on Economic Growth, Energy Policy, and Regulatory Affairs hearing titled, "The Power Struggle: Examining the Reliability and Security of America's Electrical Grid"
- March 12 | Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee hearing on wildfire management.

Local Government Relations Activity Report

LOCAL OVERVIEW

GOVERNMENT RELATIONS ACTIVITIES REPORT - MARCH

- The Snohomish County Council unanimously approved a motion to place the Port of Everett's petition for annexation on the August 2024 primary ballot. On August 6, voters will consider Proposition 1, which proposes enlarging the Port District to include all of Snohomish County, while excluding the City of Edmonds, Port of Edmonds, and the Town of Woodway. If passed, the measure would allow the Port to invest in major transportation, economic development, and environmental projects beyond the current District boundary.
- The City of Bothell recently authorized a Street Lighting Master Lighting Services Agreement with Puget Sound Energy (PSE). When the City or private developers install new streetlights in the right-of-way in PSE's service area, the City enters a 'street lighting responsibility acknowledgment' with the utility to take over ownership and maintenance. A similar agreement is executed with the PUD for newly installed streetlights in its portion of service territory, and our subject matter leads are currently coordinating with city staff.
- The City of Edmonds held a study session to learn about proposals for development code updates allowing Detached Accessory Dwelling Units (ADUs) and expand housing options by easing barriers to the construction and use of accessory dwelling units required by state law. During the brief, there were questions about PUD metering and the undergrounding of utilities. The PUD noted the comments in meeting minutes, contacted the city, and met with their staff. Some topics included how the PUD recommends ADU applicants work with the utility early in design, as well as more discussion for zero-lot-line development and PUD clearances.

2025 Integrated Resource Plan Kickoff

Garrison Marr – Senior Manager Power Supply

Kris Scudder – Utility Analyst

Landon Snyder – Utility Analyst

March 19, 2024

Today's Agenda

- Refresher
- Project Timeline
- Public Process Highlights

Today's Asks

- Today's briefing is informational only. There is no decision to be made.
- We are asking for support and feedback on the 2025 IRP timeline and the public process.

Why we are starting another IRP after adopting the 2023 IRP in December 2023

- State law requires an IRP to be published every two years, and a Clean Energy Implementation Plan (CEIP) every four years.
- The 2025 IRP is a comprehensive study with a full scope, and an accompanying CEIP. The dimensions to the study are more extensive than in 2023, so we are starting earlier.

Refresher – What is an IRP?

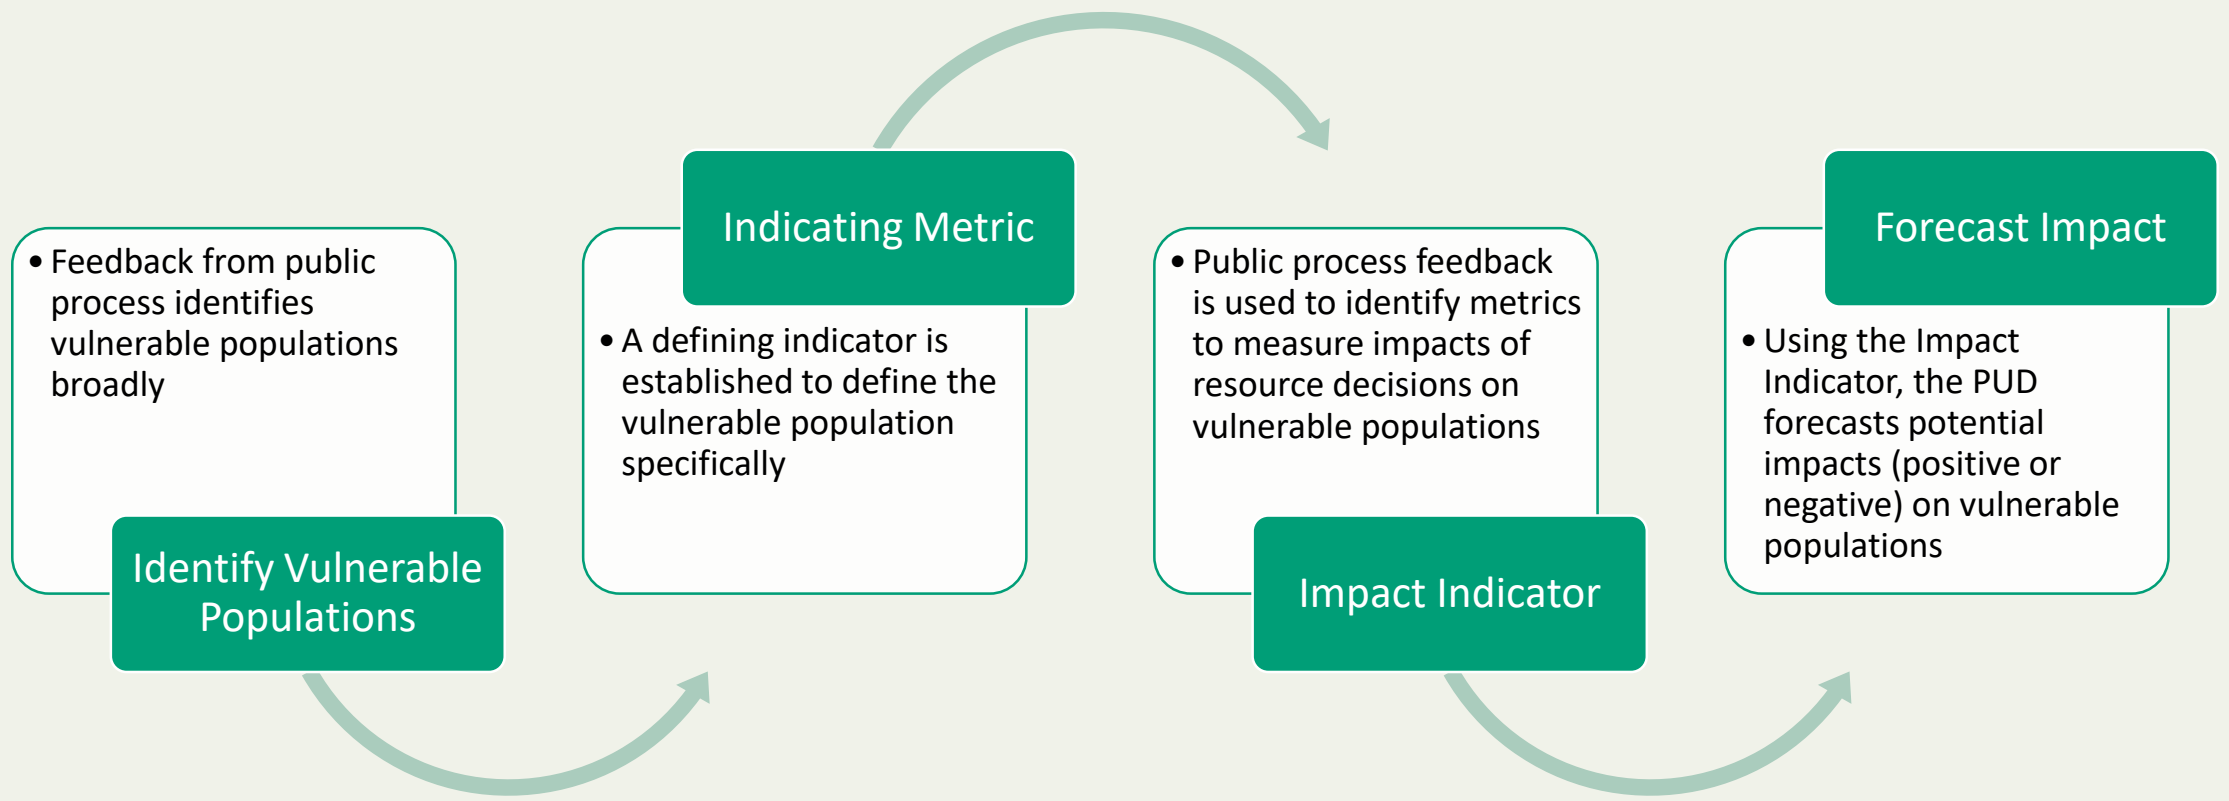

An IRP

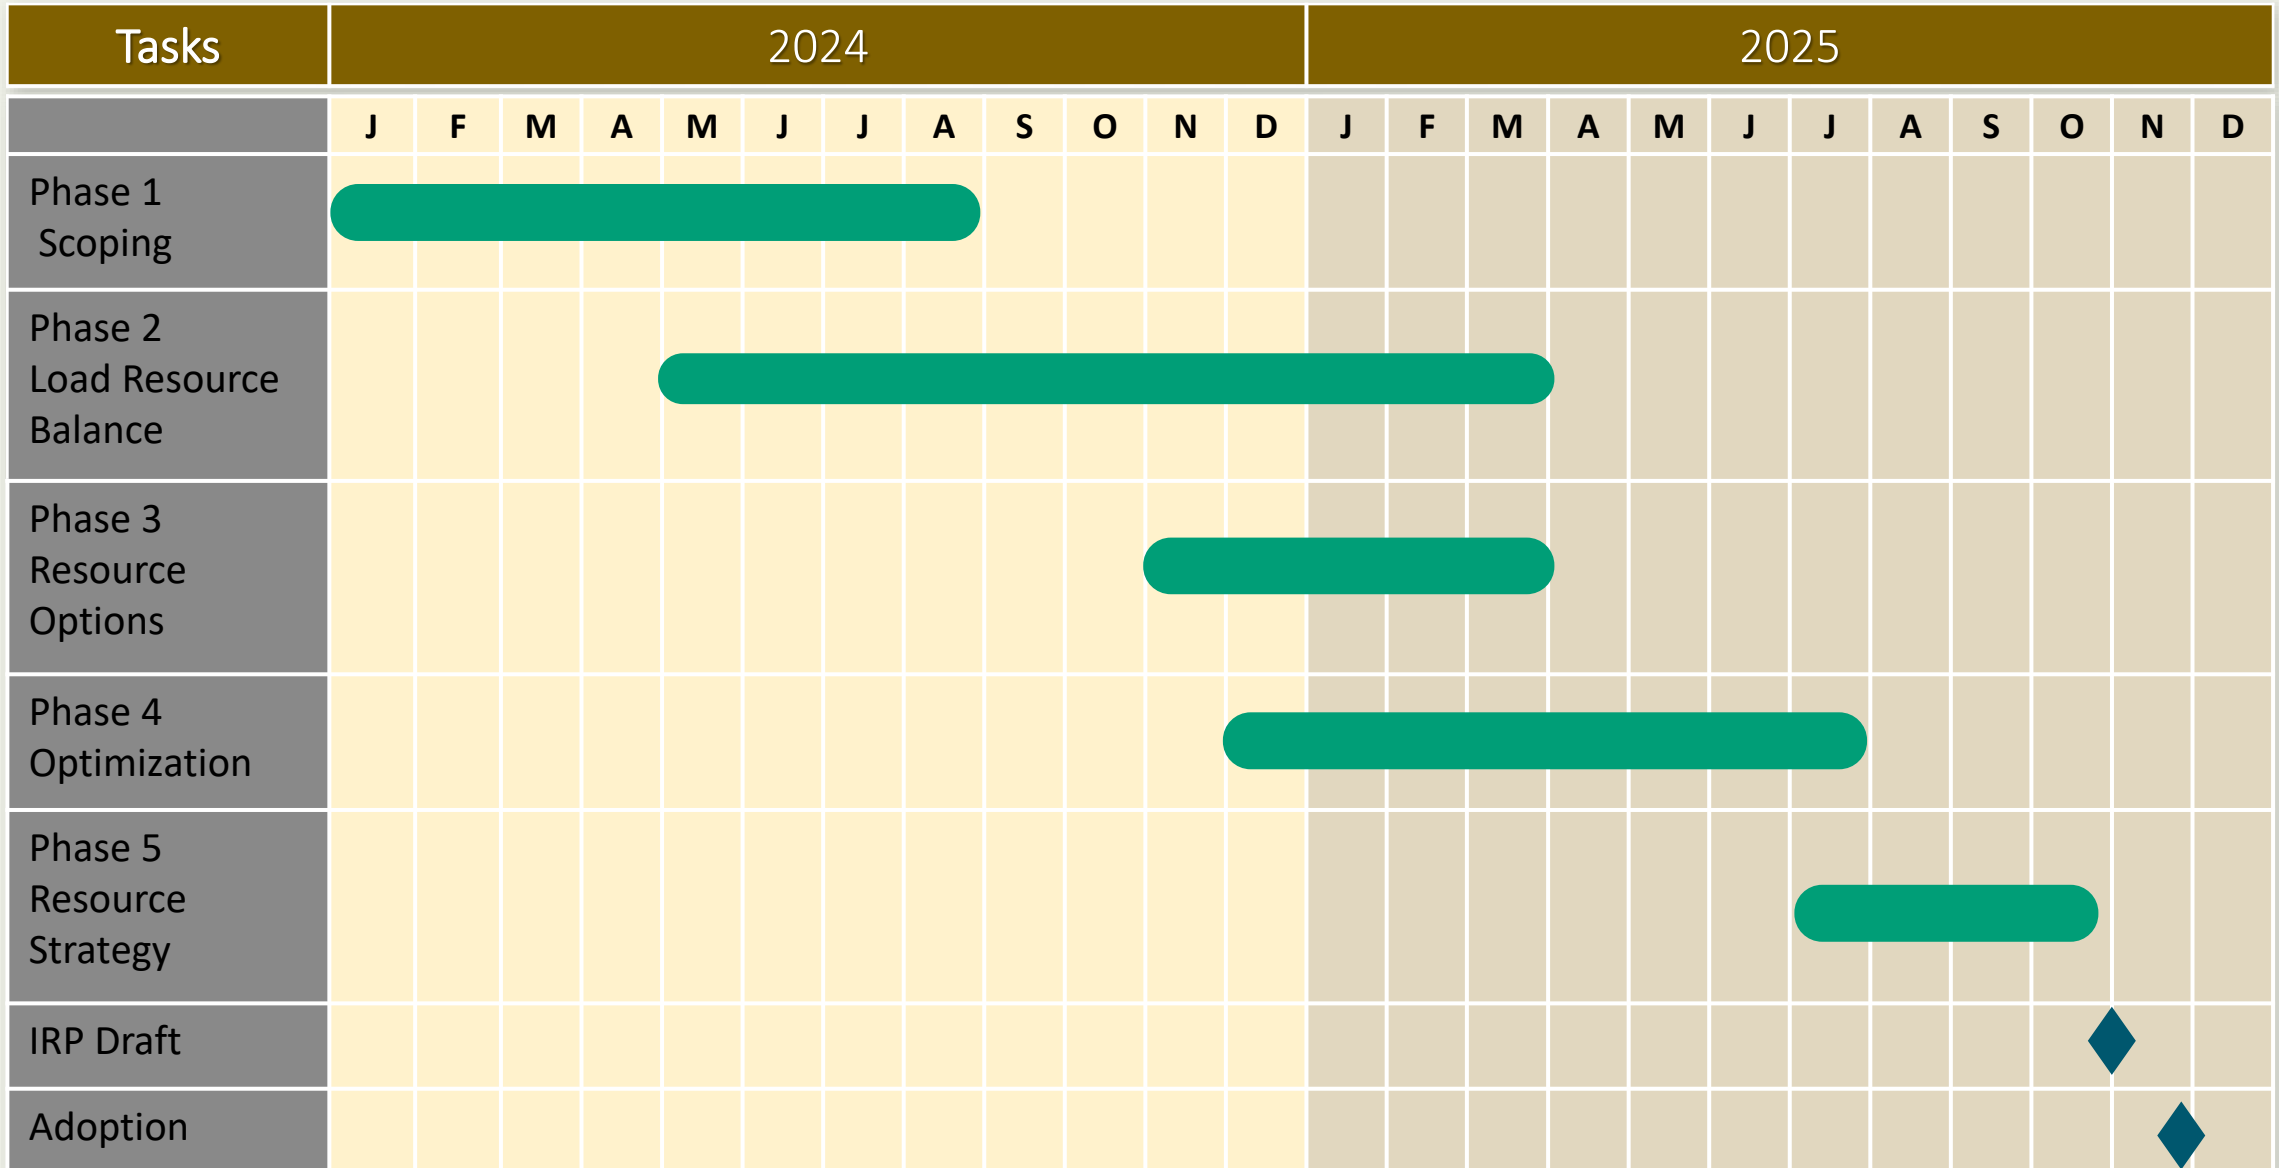

- Forecasts future supply and demand
- Evaluates potential resources for costs, benefits and risks
- Selects an optimal mix of resources that results in the lowest reasonable cost to customers
- Meets environmental, regulatory and policy requirements
- Contains a 10-year Clean Energy Action Plan per the Clean Energy Transformation Act (CETA)
- Contains economic evaluation for required biennial conservation targets

CEIP

- CEIP’s show how a utility is planning to comply with the CETA
- Establish new conservation and demand response 4-year targets
- Identify vulnerable populations and highly impacted communities

The process at a high level

Anticipated Focus Areas

- Public engagement will sharpen focus areas
- Staff identified starting points
 - Load Growth and Electrification forecast updates
 - BPA Post-2028 Contract and Product Selection
 - Resource Options with updated market and technology information
 - Changes to Planning Standards/Metrics reflecting regional market and resource adequacy efforts
 - Modeling enhancements for regional hydrology analysis

Public Engagement Process

- We will start with a focus group of community leaders asking for high level thoughts regarding the future in Snohomish County
- Due to the positive response to the 2023 open houses, we will expand to four open houses
 - One in East County, one in North County, one in Everett, and one in South County
 - Energy Block Party was also highly successful, and we will continue to participate
- We will plan for multiple Commission briefings for feedback throughout the process

Next Steps

- We plan to kickoff the public meeting series
 - The Energy Block Party is coming up and we are excited to talk with customers
 - We will begin Open House planning
- We will return at the end of Phase 1 to discuss a proposed study scope in more detail after community feedback has been received

Employee Profile

If you build it, they will come. At least that's what the 2023 Energy Block Party Planning Team hoped when they engaged on a journey to put on the PUD's inaugural Earth Day extravaganza. Their multi-month planning effort led to a wildly successful event attended by thousands of PUD customers, and it has now earned them recognition as the March 2024 Team of the Month.

Strategic Priority 3.1, Strengthening Community Connections, focuses on providing excellent customer experiences through community engagement. The goal of the Energy Block Party is to do just that. The event is about welcoming our customers to our building and providing them an opportunity to interact with us on topics or activities that are interesting to them. Whether they're interested in solar on their home, or just want a free family-friendly activity, the Energy Block Party has something for everyone, and this was proven by the variety of customers that attended the event. Families with small children, older customers, and a host of diverse cultures and backgrounds were seen meandering the packed halls of the Electric Building, checking out the latest electric rides, and enthusiastically engaging with crews in the Truckstravaganza.

"The first Annual Energy Block Party was a success beyond even the team's wildest dreams! Great teamwork, dedication and an extensive communication effort went into this event, and it all paid off," said Lisa Hunnewell, Director Marketing and Business Readiness. "With thousands of customers attending in year one, we head into year two with even more excitement and determination for success. The Energy Block Party Planning Team worked long hours over several months to make this event a fabulous customer experience for all who attended! Aaron, David, Kellie, Kelsie, Krysta, Laura, and Wendy – you are all rock stars! Thank you for all of your hard work and to all of the other Team PUD members that helped in anyway, we couldn't have done it without you! Here is to another great event in 2024!"

The event brought together teams from across the PUD to share a glimpse into the work they do every day to deliver exceptional experiences for customers and protect and enhance our environment. Coordinating the event took amazing attention to detail as they dealt with tables, chairs, signage, giveaways, site mapping, scheduling, marketing, and more. The team worked long hours to get all of the work done by the deadline of April 22, 2023.

"The Energy Block Party was a tremendous effort by the Planning Team, but none of it would have been possible without the amazing support of Team PUD," said Kellie Stickney, Lead Communications Specialist. "We want to thank everyone that went above and beyond to make this event an incredible offering for our customers. The Energy Block Party was a PUD-wide success, and we should all be proud of what we were able to accomplish together."

Energy Block Party Planning Team Members:

Aaron Swaney, David Krueger, Kellie Stickney, Krysta Rasmussen, Laura Zorick and Wendy Parris.

Quotes from Team members:

"This is a huge honor and I'm incredibly grateful to be able to share it with such a tremendous team! It was such an awesome event last year and it was amazing how it all came together. And it wasn't just us. The Energy Block Party is the definition of a PUD-wide event. We wouldn't be able to do it without help from all of you! Thank you so much and we hope to see you all at this year's Energy Block Party on April 27, 2024!" - David Krueger

"When the Energy Block Party rolled around, I had been at the PUD less than three months. It was a great opportunity to jump in and learn a ton! I met so many employees from different areas and saw how departments work together. It was a great peek into how well our teams work together to get the job done. And I couldn't have asked for a better team to be thrown into the deep end with. They definitely showed me how to swim!" – Kelsie Wiebe

"It took the entirety of Team PUD to put on this event. Thank you to everyone! I can't wait to see you all back again for this year's event. I really want to give a special thanks to the Facilities and Maintenance Teams! There would be no Energy Block Party without you doing your magic behind the scenes." – Laura Zorick

State law permits a public agency to purchase from a contract entered into by another public agency as long as the contract is determined to have been awarded in compliance with the bidding requirements of the agency seeking to make the purchase, provided that the requirement for advertising or providing notice for bids is deemed satisfied if the awarding entity advertises according to its own bidding requirements, and either (i) posts the advertisement on any website sponsored by a public agency, purchasing cooperative or similar service provider, or (ii) provides an access link on the state's web portal to the notice. District staff have verified through documentation and/or individual questions to the applicable awarding entity that the bid process used for each purchase recommended below meets the District's procurement requirements.

Accordingly, staff recommends approval of the following contracts/amendments:
