Employee Spotlight: Matt Benzin

Matt, a Human Resource Generalist III, played a key role in launching the PUD’s annual Employee Engagement Survey to gather anonymous feedback and find ways to improve employee experiences. He has demonstrated a commitment to supporting his colleagues and recently began serving on the Labor Relations team. Matt’s focus on collaboration, clear communication, and building trust has proven instrumental in his role.

PUD earns 2025 Diamond Safety Award

For the second year in a row, Snohomish PUD has been awarded the Diamond Safety Award from the American Public Power Association. Each year, utilities with low incident rates, strong safety culture and programs are recognized at the diamond, platinum and gold levels. Snohomish PUD prides itself on creating a safe environment for all employees and customers.

Safety Spotlight: Call before you dig

Getting spring fever and wanting to get started on those outdoor projects? Make sure to call before you dig! Call 811 at least two working days before starting your project to avoid potential danger and expense.

Join us for Hydropower Appreciation Day!

Dive into the wonderful world of hydropower with PUD experts on May 15 or 16 in Monroe! This one-of-a-kind experience lets you discover how clean, renewable energy flows from water. Spots are limited, so grab your tickets at snopud.com/waterwow

The PUD offers rebates of $50-$75 for purchase of qualifying line voltage thermostats and smart thermostats. Learn more at snopud.com/thermostats
